Fighting Construction Theft with Boomerang Tracking

While construction contractors are enjoying a boom in business, there has been a matching increase in the amount of equipment and material theft – it is estimated that $46 million dollars in equipment is stolen from job sites annually in Canada.

In response to the ever growing need for a way to reduce theft and thus reduce the pressures on insurance rates, Sinclair-Cockburn Financial Group in Ontario will now require the installation of a tracking device on insured heavy equipment over $40,000 as part of their HortProtect insurance program.
